

The Amazon number I called to talk to an account representative: 866-216-1072

As you may know Microsoft purchased <http://yahoo.com> They use <http://bing.com> for marketing small and large businesses.

A quick glance reveals they look to be more state-of-the-art than their competition.

Their advertising choice looks better than Amazon and Google

I think I would go with <http://bing.com>

You may agree after you view their short pitch... <http://advertise.bingads.microsoft.com/en-us/home>

You may also want to consider Apple Computers website advertising at:
